Forecast For Yorkshire & the Humber
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 03 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning unsettled and unseasonably cold on Monday, with snow showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any cloud will soon clear east to give a dry and largely clear night, although some patchy low cloud will develop over some of the western hills. Rather cold with a touch of frost in rural areas. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunny or bright on Sunday. Feeling warmer than Saturday. However, it will turn increasingly breezy as a band of rain approaches from the north, expected later in the night. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Much colder, with snow and blustery showers spreading to all parts, these more frequent along coasts. Widespread frosts and temporary accumulations overnight. Largely dry, becoming less cold on Wednesday.
